The Minnesota Assembly's Basic Education

- Portions of our courseware may be open to guests (those not yet logged on) for a limited preview...
- CBT Courses, whenever made available for enrollment, may only be requested / attended by active logged in members...
- You may request a login by contacting the following people, and by providing them your general information about yourself (full name, email, county, etc.)...
 1. Send your request to our State Coordinator, found at the Contact Us link here on the portal, or
 2. Send a request to your County Coordinator (links coming soon)
 3. Subscribe to our newsletter (coming soon) and watch for announcements regarding our TMA Portal Resources (coming soon)
- With your express permission either verbally or in writing, CBT Instructors may be able to send you Email-based content to help you accomplish a number of tasks, such as:
 1. Pointing you to the web portal link for Joining the Assembly...
 2. Sending you PDF documents and/or web links that you can review -- to help educate you -- about coming home to the Land and Soil Jurisdiction...
 3. Return your Email or phone calls provided that you give permission for the Assembly to contact you back,,,

As our SysOp develops/configures/implements this concept portal system as a prototype, there may be some fictionalized or 'pending' content which will be displayed as 'a placeholder' for official content planned for the near future. Much of said 'placeholder content' was not routed through the various committee levels for approvals/votes or actual program development. Such work
